In this third article of a series describing life in Japan today, four years after its defeat in World War Two, former I. N. S. War Correspondent Clark Lee gives a vivid picture of life in Tokyo—by day and night.

TOKYO.—(INS)—The first striking realization on a quick trip to Tokyo is that the world's third largest city once again has a roof over its collective head.

Four years ago it was, except for the undamaged modern buildings downtown, a succession of vast empty spaces burned out by B-29 fire raids. Now these spaces are filled, even though one-story shanty-like structures have replaced the factories of the Tokyo-Yokohama industrial area.

The new buildings are neither elaborate nor substantial, being mostly of wood with tin or wooden roofs. There were no funds for re-designing, beautifying or modernizing the destroyed capital, and it remains what it essentially always has been—a sprawling collection of villages (wards) which grew together over hundreds of years, lacking the cohesiveness of a real city.

Even so, the reconstruction is a tribute to the industry and energy of the Japanese who move about the streets on foot, in buses and trolleys in a spirit of bustle and aggressive activity. Western clothes predominate. The young girls are neat in new look length dresses, and the babies seem adequately clothed and well fed. Kimonos and getas (wooden clogs) are increasing in sight.

Baseball, once a sport played by a relatively few, has become a national passion. Games are in progress in every vacant lot, and so great is the enthusiasm that office workers even don uniforms for a non-time workout.

Greater Tokyo's population is now climbing toward 7,000,000 on a wartime low of about 3,000,000 during the worst fire raids. Office workers travel as much as four hours daily to commute from suburban areas.

Was Prominent Banker

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 19.—J. Purdy Weiss, vice president of the Doylestown Trust Company, and one of the best known bankers in Bucks county, died here yesterday at his home, 76 West Oakland avenue. He was 73.

Although active in his office until a short time ago, Mr. Weiss had been in failing health for some time. He was born in Bustleton and moved to Doylestown with his family in 1878. He celebrated 50 years in the banking service here just recently, having started with the Doylestown Trust Co. as a clerk in 1899. He was elected vice president of the company in 1934, a bank that now has assets of over $8,000,000.

A life-long Democrat, Mr. Weiss was actively interested in public affairs and enjoyed a legion of friends of both political parties.

His outstanding hobby was his devotion to the growth and development of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He was a past president of the Bucks County Bankers Association, and treasurer of many organizations including the Boy Scouts of Bucks county, Bucks County Tuberculosis Society. He was a Mason and Rotarian and a member of the Doylestown Presbyterian Church. He was a former member of Doylestown Council.

The survivors include two sisters, Miss Carrie Weiss and Mrs. Jennie Harold, living at home.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

In a final burst of speed looking to adjournment of Congress today, Senate and House conferees agreed yesterday on a farm bill. Flexible price supports will be set forth as a long-term policy, but high supports will be retained as an interim measure.

Both houses passed and sent to the President the bill raising the legal minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour, and the $15-555,853,498 defense bill, with funds for a fifty-eight-group Air Force. Under the latter bill, the Army and Navy would have to trim their strength, with the Navy laying up about 29 per cent of its ships. Air Force strength would be maintained. The session's appropriations are expected to reach a total of $37,643,000,000.

The Air Force attacked the Navy in opening its reply before a House committee to Navy charges against the B-36 bomber and high defense policies. Air Secretary Symington said the Navy's campaign was directed against civilian control of the armed forces, that its testimony had been "false" and "untrue," and that the national security had been imperiled by revealing to "a possible aggressor" technical and operating details of our newest and latest equipment.

MADE USE OF BUCKET

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 19.—Awakened from a nap on Sunday afternoon by the noise of water being drawn down stairs, Mrs. Harvey Johnson was amazed to find a strange man calmly taking a foot bath in a bucket which he had found on the rear porch.

Mrs. Johnson had not been feeling well, and went upstairs to lie down. She later heard someone drawing water from the kitchen faucet. Thinking it was her small grandson, she called, but no one answered.

She quickly got up, went downstairs, and was shocked to see a strange man sitting on the back porch washing his feet. He had taken a bucket from the porch, gotten the water and was performing his ablutions when interrupted by the housewife.

"I thought there was no one at home, lady, and since the door was unlocked, decided to help myself," said the intruder calmly.

Mrs. Johnson said he was a man in his sixties, wore pink shell glasses and two kinds of shoes—one black and one brown. She permitted him to finish his chore.

"He had his own towel and a new pair of socks," said Mrs. Johnson. "His feet were really blistered and he didn't look as if he were used to much walking about in the country. When he left he didn't bother to take his towel along, and he discarded his old socks."

"I will never leave my doors unlocked again," she added.

BUCKS COUNTY ELECTION

There are so many big political issues being discussed these days, that it would be easy to lose sight of the importance of the county election next November 8.

Yet there are angles to that election which ought to have the attention of all the men and women in the county who are interested in good government.

This article is the first of a series which will answer the question of who is to be elected for county office, what the county government does, and why it is important for you to give careful thought to the vote you will cast on election day.

Unlike some other elections, there is just one central issue in the county campaign. That is good government—honest, efficient, responsive and business-like handling of the county's affairs.

In round figures, the Bucks County government is a $1,200,000 business. Approximately that amount comes in from various sources. In the course of the year, nearly that same amount is expended for various purposes, or earmarked for future expenditure.

If you like exact figures, the total of receipts and balances for the year 1948 was $1,179,545.95, which of course checked with the expenditures and the balances left on hand. Cash on hand at the start of 1948 was $137,391.89, and at the end of the year, $157,536.69.

This is all money which belongs to the people of Bucks County. It is YOUR money. Since it would be out of the question for all the men and women of Bucks County to sit down together and decide how this should be administered, you elect the officers of your county government to have charge of it.

Every two years you elect about half of these officers, for four-year terms.

The county officers to be elected this year are: a judge, a district attorney, a sheriff, a recorder of deeds, a prothonotary, a controller and a jury commissioner.

How do you decide whom you consider to be worthy of your trust in handling the financial and other problems of your county government?

"PENNSYLVANIA WEEK" IS OBSERVED; FALL
COLORS NOW UNFOLDING THRUOUT COUNTY

Pennsylvanians may well give thought during this "Pennsylvania Week," to that portion of the state known as Bucks County—the county of the founder.

Bucks County has much of which to be proud — beautiful scenery, bountiful farms, prosperous industries, a colony of artists noted throughout the world, historic spots, and so on ad infinitum. "Glimpses of Beautiful Bucks County" is the title of a pamphlet published at intervals by Bucks Co. School Directors Association, and in Unit four published some months ago, as well as in other editions, many beauty spots are set forth in pictures with suitable captions.

"Most of us have a yearning to see the beauties of distant places. Yet we have, near at hand, scenes of incomparable beauty in the familiar hills and valleys and streams of Bucks County," the flyer states. "This photographic journey includes only a part of them — over 80 equally attractive pictures had to be eliminated in choosing those presented."

The scenes presented are: "Bucks County's most breath-taking view" — from Top Rock on the Nockamixon Palisades, with Roosevelt Park and the Delaware 400 feet below; also the Indian profile located on top of the palisades. Ringing Rocks, a field of over five acres of igneous (fire origin)

ONE MAN'S OPINION

William Z. Foster is feeling no better since the Communist trial ended . . . in fact he is complaining that the verdict put his ulcers in double jeopardy.

But there's one good postscript . . . Foster says the Communists definitely will not go underground and that should free 3,000 seats in the subway in New York.

Come to think of it . . . Between Foster and Lewis hardly anybody is going underground these days.

Some say some miners are a little dissatisfied with Mr. Lewis but he still stands high in the affection of the oil burner salesmen.

Steel is a different story . . . No one has yet found a way to substitute tinker toys for steel in permanent construction.

There is a possibility that Mr. Truman may have to use the Taft-Hartley Act in some of these disputes but it should be understood in advance that he will turn to the law as a last resort.

Sudden Death Occurs

The deceased was a veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Fire Chief Fred Hibbs
Speaks To The School
Pupils There

TWP. GRADE NEWS

In most of Bristol township elementary schools an educational film was shown the week previous to Fire Prevention Week, titled "The Firemen." The film opened a wealth of material to the children and teachers to discuss the following week. Fire drills were held in all schools. Records were broken, especially in Maple Shade where 255 pupils cleared the building in one minute. The highlight in Fire Prevention Week instruction in the Edgely Schools was a talk given by Fred Hibbs, chief of Hensley Manor Fire Co., of Edgely. Hazards caused by matches, and personal protection were stressed. Pupils were instructed to remove themselves from any scene of fire and to summon adults and fire department. The pupils responded by asking questions and relating experiences. An invitation was extended to visit the fire station.

A photographer has made her visit to the schools. The boys and girls were very particular about their appearance. Sometimes it looked like the room backstage. Makeup didn't have to be applied but it took lots of water to keep cowlicks under control. Result of efforts will be seen about December 1st when the pictures are delivered. Many will be used for Christmas gifts.

When Mary or "Johnnie" asked at home for an old pair of socks to take to school parents probably thought "Things are certainly different."

Warn "Zero Hour" at Hand for Steel Users

New York—Mounting industrial layoffs and a warning that the "zero hour" is at hand for many steel users gave a note of urgency today for a solution to settle the 19-day-old nationwide steel strike. The "zero hour" warning came from the national metalworking weekly, Iron Age, as Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching came to New York for conference with officials of U. S. Steel. Iron Age said if the strike of the CIO United Steelworkers against "Big Steel" continues another two weeks, it will mean a severe shortage of steel that will last from four to five months.

QUICK AID RESPIRATOR

Designed especially for use in cases of bulbar poliomyelitis, in nine major cases of which it has been successfully employed at Boston, a new respirator gives hope that it can, with expert supervision, be effective in cases of drowning, brain injuries, overdoses of sleeping tablets and electrocution.

It will be a wonderful achievement if such results can be accomplished by a 10-inch box, which by electric current induces and controls the speed of rhythmic breathing.

The new machine, known as the electrophrenic respirator, is the invention of two professors at the Harvard School of Health. It has the advantage of being cheap, easily portable by one person and much lighter than the iron lung, which was developed at the same school a score of years ago.

Breathing is controlled by an electrode that conveys current to the phrenic nerve, alternately contracting and expanding the diaphragm.

Its utility in polio cases already demonstrated, it remains to be seen whether the contrivance can be put to successful use by life guards, disaster crews and military physicians who acquire the technique, wherever quick access to electric current is obtainable.

In that event there will be a large addition in number to the six machines now in existence.

WHY ALL THE HURRY?

Americans are a busy people. For most persons the tempo has been speeded up until they are constantly in a hurry, living in a rush from morning until night. People travel at top speed to gain minutes for which they have no particular need or use.

Hurry has become a bad habit, a state of mind from which Americans suffer and for which they pay the penalty in loss of health. It accounts for the increase in heart ailments and the mounting death toll from this and other afflictions.

The difference between a car speed of 60 miles an hour and 40 miles is small in the time required to reach a destination. But it is considerable in safety and its effects upon human nerves.

Motorists who jump the lights to gain a fraction of a second accomplish no more in the course of a day than those who drive deliberately and carefully.

There is no need to hurry through life, missing most of the fun along the way. Take it easy and relax. You may discover you aren't half as busy as you think you are. You'll live longer and have much more fun.

John Lewis, Bill Green and Phil Murray may soon rediscover the old truth that if you cannot get what you want take what you can get.

When the 30-hour week gets here, overall factories will find it unnecessary to operate more than one day a week to meet the demand.

In this county, where the Republican Party has been in office at Doylestown for a number of years, the question is quite simple.

You judge the party by its record. If this record wasn't satisfactory, then, as the saying goes, it would be "time for a change."

But if, as is actually the case, the Republican incumbents have exceptionally good records examined on any basis you choose — efficiency, high standards of service, or competent business judgment in handling your money — then it would of course be silly to vote a new and untried administration into power.

A good coach doesn't break up a winning team. There is no percentage for the voter in ousting an administration which has proven itself to be capable and thrifty — merely to give the work to persons who have no experience and no provable qualifications to do it properly.

You can carry this argument a step further. In this nation, some units of government are in good hands, and some are in poor. How can the average citizen improve the standards of his various branches and sub-divisions of government?

Of course, one way is to vote out of power those who are inefficient, unresponsive to the public will, or wasteful of its resources.

But isn't it just as important to voice your approval of good government as it is to punish those who forget that public service is a public trust?

Of course it is! While it isn't half as exciting to vote "for" something as it is to vote "against" something, it is always a sure step to raise administrative standards for the voters to come out on election day and give good government a rousing majority.

That's what is respectfully suggested to the voters of Bucks County in the present campaign.

It's YOUR responsibility. Look over the record of the Republican Administrations in handling your county affairs. When you find, as you will, that the record is superlative — then be sure that you express your approval by the vote of yourself and your family and your friends on November 8.

Remember, a single cross-mark on the ballot will record your vote for all Republican nominees for county office. When you receive your ballot, simply look for the word "Republican" where it appears in heavy type, and put an "x" in the space after it, thus:

Tokyo Now Has A Roof Over Its Collective Head

Urban districts. The city proper now houses nearly 5,000,000, jammed into small sleeping areas where communicable diseases are difficult to check despite precautions by occupation health authorities.

Tokyo's shops seem stocked with articles of all kinds, from poor quality wooden matches in the Ginza sidewalk stands to a fabulous $49,000 gold screen on display in the Imperial Hotel. Silver stores are doing a rushing business in compact, lighters, table silver. Mikimoto displays his world famous synthetic pearls in a smart new modern-front store. American cars are on sale (though not to the Japanese) in a fine new showroom near the American Embassy.

Tokyo's night life, crowded into a few narrow streets of the Nishi Ginza district, is loud, garish and dull. Beer bars, once dimly lit spots designed for quiet conversation, blaze with lights and blare with music—the samba, rumba and tango interspersed with Japanese torch songs.

The girls in the clubs, still not quite accustomed to western dress but moving with professional sureness from customer to customer, all speak faltering English and occasionally a group will self-consciously sing a number like "London Bridge is Falling Down."

One girl, after performing a modified strip tease to cries of "take it off," announced obviously and bilingually that she was "sukoshi (a little) stinking."

Occupation sociologists say that these street-bar girls are something new in Japan, a product of post-war poverty. In contrast to the sheltered and respected lives of professional prostitutes, the street girls have short careers, plagued by ill health and insecurity.

Drunkness among Japanese men, a rare sight before the war, is common nowadays. Staggering, sometimes falling, shouting and arguing, they move through the streets along the Nishi Ginza, young men in their 20's and early 20's seeking perhaps to drown the bitterness of defeat.

At 10:30 p. m. the streets are full of the drunks and of their bar girl companions. Fifteen minutes later the entire district is deserted, lights out in hundreds of tiny bars, wooden shutters tightly locked.

There is no official curfew, but everyone must hurry to catch the last train home to the suburbs.

(Tomorrow: The "feud" between private business and occupation authorities in Japan.)

Bankers' Group Gives Film To Schools

"The misconception by many bank customers of the function of a present day commercial bank should be corrected," it was stated. Some of the fallacies currently accepted by the public were humorously described by Mr. Case.

To explain the functions of a bank to the high school students of Bucks County, the Association unanimously approved the donation of a moving picture film entitled "Pay to the Order Of" to the Bucks County Public School Film Library. This picture describes the fascinating travels of a check from the time it is written until it is returned to the maker. Such additional films as may be found, which are of an educational nature suitable for high school students, were authorized to be secured for the school film library.

3M Club Members Make Merry At A 'Playbarn'

The first party of the newly organized 3M Club was held on Friday evening at Edgely Playbarn. About 200 Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co. employees and guests enjoyed an evening of dancing to the music of an orchestra.

Officers of the club, R. J. St. Amant, president; Robert Arrowood, vice-president; Barbara Virgulti, treasurer; and Mary Jane Callaghan, secretary, were introduced. Robert N. Wolfe, plant manager, spoke briefly regarding the purpose of the Club. He pointed out that it is purely an employee organization with a primary objective of promoting good fellowship among all employees of the company.

A special committee headed by Grif Bull and composed of committee members Dorothy Quinn, Elizabeth MacCorkle, Margaret Whitaker, Paul Nicholas and William Abate, planned the party which is said to be just a beginning of many good times for 3M Club members.

WHAT a car! And what a royal welcome it's getting from value-wise Americans!

Already, of the more than quarter-million owners of New Hudsons, over 120,000 are motorists who switched from other makes to own a "step-down" designed New Hudson—and as a result, sales so far this year are over 30 per cent ahead of last year's glorious record! Yes, alert motorists have been quick to discover that Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design brings, not just more, but the most of the four things people want most in a motor car—beauty, roominess, road-worthiness and all-round performance!

Realistic Drills Are Conducted At Edgely

ferent since I went to school." In music class the children are learning to do creative dancing. Their ordinary shoes would hinder their movements so that the next best thing is a pair of old socks. The children are most enthusiastic about this activity.

To develop the meaning of the good neighbor policy Newportville sixth graders are going on an imaginary trip to Latin America. Many plans have been made and in imagination they are packing trunks. To do this by pretense, they are listing things they must have and drawing sketches of clothing to take along. The most important thought was the procedure necessary to follow in order to obtain a passport. After some research it was learned that the Department of State has a definite form which must be filled out. This application must be notarized and accompanied by two signed photographs. The Secretary of State then issues the passport. This all became more realistic when the photographer arrived last week to take the yearly school pictures. In a few days pupils will be ready to "leave". They plan to visit the Pan American Building in Washington, D. C., then off to Mexico.

Maple Shade first grade pupils are learning to read by making booklets of their experiences. Each day they add some additional sentences to their book. They are quite interested, too, in the pretty pictures their teachers are putting on the large pages to illustrate their story. One of the teachers has a flash camera and is using it to capture the spirit the children portray during their activities.

Laurel Bend sixth grade Travel Club journeyed to the Philadelphia "Zoo" October 15th. This trip was planned as the culminating activity in the study of Pennsylvania. Snapshots were secured for the class scrapbook.

Two new teachers has been added to the faculty of Edgely primary school. They are Mrs. Beatrice H. Daltry and Miss Doris A. Taylor. Both teach first grade. Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Taylor, Yardley. She received her bachelor of science degree in education from the State Teachers' College, East Stroudsburg. She was a member of the Future Teachers of America, Association for Childhood Education, Student Christian Association, and Art Club while in college. Mrs. Daltry is a graduate of State Teachers' College, West Chester. There she received her bachelor of science degree in education. She has taught in the Middletown township schools, Lima, and in Radnor elementary, Wayne.

The room mothers of the second grade, at Edgely, Mrs. William Crawford and Mrs. Samuel Smith, made the dark curtains for the windows to be used for showing films.

As a culminating activity following a unit on "pets" Edgely first grade took an all day trip to the Philadelphia "zoo" on October 11th. Five mothers assisted with the group, namely Mrs. Alton Dettmer, Mrs. William Barkasy, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Charles Simpson, and Mrs. Mathias Summers.

One of the Edgely fifth grades has formed a hobby club. Officers were elected and the first meeting will take place this week. Members intend having an exhibition of their favorite hobbies in the near future. Any one passing the school last Thursday would wonder what the boys and girls were doing jumping out of the windows. Since fire prevention week was being celebrated it was decided to make some practice jumps in case the need was apparent. There were those who were brave and jumped like regular troupers but the timid ones had a different feeling about the matter. Since it was something that may benefit all later those timid souls also jumped.

The new set of encyclopedias have been got of the rounds of the rooms. The children are fascinated by the many colored plates. The upper grades have taken a great interest in looking up material on Pennsylvania. If this interest is continued the children will obtain information that a teacher could not impart in a year, faculty members feel.

In the kindergarten department a flash camera has been purchased by the teachers. They are taking shots of the different activities. On special occasions colored film will be used. These pictures will be put in a scrapbook and at the end of the year an overall picture of progress will be portrayed. Story telling is being promoted by making place mats on which the children draw a picture. After opening exercises the children form a circle and each one tells the story his picture represents. The mats are used later as a place mat for milk and cookies. This activity takes place every Monday—the children tell a story to the teacher in place of the one she usually reads to them. The story telling helps the child to express himself.

Thomas Bowers, Hulmeville, stationary engineer for the Phila. Suburban Water Company, testified that Freitag was on duty with him that evening and that he was out taking a sample of water from the reservoir when the crash was heard.

"Freitag may have touched the Morrisville defendant's tractor-trailer, climbed into it or examined it when it toppled over on him," said Judge Keller. Another argument was that he may have died of a heart attack or that another car may have struck the trailer and caused it to fall over on him crushing him.

Freitag evidently went to see what happened when he heard the first tractor-trailer strike the fence and was found dead beneath it with his head and neck lying across the guard rail.

Solicitors To Receive Red Feather Donations

ANDALUSIA, Oct. 19 — The Community Chest fund raising drive is now underway, and solicitors will call in the near future upon residents here for contributions. Residents are asked to contribute as generously as possible and give a little more than last year. The expenses of the Community Chest and the organizations it helps are having increased costs.

This present fund raising drive will help 160 agencies, and it is combined in one drive. Residents are asked when making contributions to imagine what they would donate to each and every agency if it made its own individual drive.

They are reminded: "The Red Feather Organization puts your dollars to the best use, for the most people, with the least waste. Everyone gives for the good of all in one convenient, efficient and helpful donation. Your contribution will help in Phila. and vicinity the following: 26 hospitals, nine family service bureaus, 22 health service organizations, 50 Youth and recreation services and organizations, 17 specialized health service organizations, 12 community services and 24 child care service organizations."

Still Hope for Decision Favoring Their Protest

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 19—Hope is still being held by the Citizens' Protest Committee for victory in its fight against the proposed toll bridge across the Delaware river, here, connecting Trenton. The United States Supreme Court refused to review an unfavorable decision handed down by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The committee expects the Federal District Court in Philadelphia to rule in favor of a group of property owners in Easton who are waging a similar battle there. A victory for Easton residents, who are protesting construction of a bridge approach, would also result in triumph for Morrisville property owners, a committee spokesman said.

The State Supreme Court had upheld a law permitting the commission to build the bridge approach without the consent of municipalities involved.

Taxpayers and residents in the two municipalities contend they are being deprived of property in violation of the Constitution and that tax revenue would be lost to the communities.

E. Dilwyn Darlington, attorney for the Morrisville committee, said yesterday's decision handed down will not affect the Easton suit because the latter is being argued on a number of different legal points that have arisen since the beginning of the Morrisville suit.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. John C. Kulp
Pastor
Hulmeville Methodist Church

One day on the beach this summer, we set out to look for shells of a particular size, shape and color. At first these certain shells were elusive and hard to spot, although there were plenty of them. They were scattered among broken and odd and misshapen shells that we had no interest in. Gradually, as we strolled along spotting the ones we wanted one by one, they became easier to find. Indeed, it seemed as though there were suddenly more of them. Actually, our eyes and minds had become adjusted to the exact thing we were looking for, and automatically the ones we weren't looking for were rejected, almost as though they weren't there.

Jesus said, "Seek and ye shall find." By looking for the good and beautiful in others we will find just that and all of life will come into harmony with God and with others. Look for the nasty and mean things, and our own personalities will reflect meanness and become nasty and unlovely. Seek peace and wholeness with Jesus and all of life is restored to harmony and unity with God. Seek satisfaction in material pleasures and life is seen wasted away into decay. What we look for we find. What we sow we reap.

Fond's street, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Louis DiCicco, Tullytown; and Mr. and Mrs. John Abrams, Edgely.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, Bath road, spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss Marian Alexander, Philadelphia. On Sunday they spent the day sight-seeing at New York, N. Y.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. James Nealis and daughter Barbara, Pine street, were guests at the wedding of Edward McElroy, Jersey City.

N. J. Mr. Nealis served as best man at the ceremony.

Mrs. John Cunningham and daughters Mary Ann and "Judy", of Trenton, N. J., spent Saturday with Mrs. Cunningham's mother, Mrs. Frank Nealis, Pine street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reiff and family, Beaver street, spent a few days last week at Mrs. Reiff's home, at Ranshaw. While there they attended the funeral of Mrs. Reiff's mother, Mrs. Stella Kashuba, of that city. Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reiff were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nobey, Philadelphia.

St. Ann's A. A. Auxiliary will hold a meeting Thursday evening at the club house, Wood street, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Congetta Puchino, Wilson street, who has been a patient in Abington Hospital, has returned home.

Philadelphians in 24 Buses Visit "Crossing"

Twenty-four bus loads of Philadelphians had an opportunity to enjoy Pennsylvania's historic Washington Crossing Park on Sunday.
The occasion was an Autumn Rambles Tour conducted by the Philadelphia Transit Company.

Each bus carried some 30 people, many of whom had never before had an opportunity to visit the site of the famous crossing which played such an important part in this nation's history.

The park superintendent, G. S.
Stradling, announced that the visitors to the park on this date also included a chartered bus from Parker Tours, Inc., New York, N. Y., and many thousands of people from nearby towns and cities in Pennsylvania and New Jersey who wanted to view the autumn foliage.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. John C. Kulp
Pastor
Hulmeville Methodist Church

One day on the beach this summer, we set out to look for shells of a particular size, shape and color. At first these certain shells were elusive and hard to spot, although there were plenty of them. They were scattered among broken and odd and misshapen shells that we had no interest in. Gradually, as we strolled along spotting the ones we wanted one by one, they became easier to find. Indeed, it seemed as though there were suddenly more of them. Actually, our eyes and minds had become adjusted to the exact thing we were looking for, and automatically the ones we weren't looking for were rejected, almost as though they weren't there.

Jesus said, "Seek and ye shall find." By looking for the good and beautiful in others we will find just that and all of life will come into harmony with God and with others. Look for the nasty and mean things, and our own personalities will reflect meanness and become nasty and unlovely. Seek peace and wholeness with Jesus and all of life is restored to harmony and unity with God. Seek satisfaction in material pleasures and life is soon wasted away into decay. What we look for we find. What we sow we reap.

N. J. Mr. Nealis served as best man at the ceremony.

HIGH JUNIORS IN SCORELESS TIE WITH MORRISVILLE JRS.

Bristol Junior High and Morrisville Junior High fought to a scoreless deadlock yesterday afternoon on Memorial Park field. The Bristol team outplayed their rivals and registered nine first downs to Morrisville's three.

In the second half, the playing was all to Bristol with the pigskin being in Morrisville's territory most of the time. Bristol got as far as the 15-yard line twice in the final quarter but lacked the drive to push over a score.

The main Bristol march started when Gene Dugan intercepted a pass on his 20. A pass, Ron Giambella to Don Lucetti was good for another 20 yards and then Bart Di Giralamo got off an end run which netted a first down on the Morrisville 40. Sidney Taylor added ten yards on an off-tackle slant while two plays later, Giambella passed to Walt Holden for a first down on the 19 as the quarter closed.

DiGiralamo made two yards at center and Larry Cohen picked up three at tackle but here the Morrisville team held nicely and Bristol lost the ball on downs. Later in the quarter, "Bill" Marshall recovered a fumble on the Morrisville 24. A penalty hurt Bristol considerably as Giambella passed to Wayne Hloodgood for eight yards and then Cohen and Dugan carried the ball to the 15-yard line as the game ended.

Charles Galambos and Sullivan were outstanding for Morrisville with Cohen and DiGiralamo starring for Bristol. The latter had a run which was good for 45 yards while Cohen had a scamper of 30 yards.

Baseball League To Dine At Pennel

The annual banquet of the Bristol Suburban Baseball League will be held tonight at Flannery's Restaurant, Pennel. Presentation of the most valuable player's award will be the highlight of the evening.

Trophies will be presented to the championship Voltz-Texaco team, runner-up West Bristol team, William McGerr and Paul Leighton, leading pitchers, and Charles Glassmire, leading batter.

Dave Landreth, league advisor, will be one of the speakers of the evening. Movies of the 1948 World's Series will be shown through the courtesy of the Philadelphia Athletics.

BRISTOL HIGH TO PLAY ST. FRANCIS

Bristol High's game with St. Francis Vocational School, scheduled for this Saturday night, is an experiment. The local school has played its home nocturnal games on Friday nights for the past two seasons but the athletic association of the school booked this contest to see if the fans of this section would respond to a Saturday night tilt.

The Warriors held a light workout yesterday and Coach Harry McClister used Dick Puchino as a line backer-up. Puchino has been showing up exceptionally well in Junior Varsity games and has earned himself a chance in the varsity backfield.

"Bill" Moll did not practice yesterday and all indications point to the star Bristol back sitting the next game out. Moll is still receiving treatments for his injured knee and will not be used until the game with Langhorne, Saturday night, October 29th.

ST. ANN'S TO PRACTICE

There will be an important football practice for the St. Ann's A. A. team tonight at seven o'clock in the rear of the club-house, Wood street.

Coach "Pete" Bornice has requested all players to be present.

Cornwells Heights

Twenty-seven were present at the meeting which Girl Scout Troop 46 conducted on Thursday evening in Cornwells Methodist Church hall. Plans for a Halloween party to be given October 27 were discussed. Mrs. Samuel Aikens is assisting the Scouts with the Junior Red Cross project. Others assisting at the session were: Leader, Mrs. F. S. Lockard, Mrs. E. Fields, Miss Elizabeth Sergeant, Mrs. George Winch, Mrs. C. E. Hanson.

Twenty-six girls of Troop 46 enjoyed a visit to an Edgington dairy on Friday. J. Maginnis escorted the Scouts throughout the dairy and explained the process of pasteurization and homogenizing. Refreshments were served. Mrs. George Winch, Mrs. William Ervin, Mrs. C. E. Hanson, Mrs. Benjamin Hughes, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Laycock transported the girls in cars.

Mrs. Sybilla Koch is visiting her brother at his residence at Staten Island, N. Y., for two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lockard spent Saturday at Lebanon, where Mr. Lockard attended the state fire police meeting.

Dorcas Missionary Society members met at the home of Mrs. Irene Silbes, Edgington, on Friday evening. Plans for a Christmas box were discussed. The next meeting will take place at the residence of Mrs. Elmer Yorty, Jr. Refreshments were served.

William Ebert has returned to his employment following several weeks absence due to illness.

Haul out your odds and ends, they'll bring you a profit through Want Ads.

NOTES OF INTEREST TO THOSE WHO FOLLOW SPORTS

Continuing its fine work, the Bucks County Rescue Squad, Croydon unit, has its ambulance at every high school and St. Ann's football game. The Squad has transported several injured players to local physicians' offices and close-by hospitals. It has also rendered first aid on minor injuries.

A former Bristol resident, "Al" Bauer, is a candidate for president of the American Power Boat Association. This association controls speedboat and outboard racing in the United States and Canada.

Bauer has been senior vice-president of the association for the past year and will run against C. King Bruman, Los Angeles, Calif., incumbent, who is seeking re-election.

Bauer is a member of the Wisconsin Yacht Club and was also Commodore of Region 3 of the APBA, comprising the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

When he resided here, Bauer was a member of the now disbanded YMA and instrumental in that organization participating in many canoe races. He also played basketball for the YMA in the local league several years back.

"Jim" Sottile, high-scoring star of the Bristol High basketball team of last season and one of the best court-men in Lower Bucks County, has been awarded a scholarship at West Virginia. Coaches Harry McClister and Jerry Bloom spared no efforts in securing the basketball scholarship for "Jimmy".

Two years ago when the Olney Vets played here, there were two players in the Olney backfield who drew the attention of the fans. One was "Ed" Carr and the other "Johnny" Melinos. To-day, Carr is one of the star backs for the San Francisco 49ers and one of the leading scorers in the All-American Football Conference. Sunday, he suffered a torn leg ligament in the game against the Buffalo Bills. Milanos has recently entered Miami University.

Under a new system as set up by the coaches, sports equipment at the Bristol High School, is under control at all times. The managers hand out the equipment in duffle bags and are the only ones permitted in the store room. After the games or practice session, the managers collect the bags and check all the equipment before re-storing it.

Joe Wallick is senior football manager and Robert Braker takes care of the Junior High equipment. There is a staff of four managers to each sport.

At a recent meeting, officials of the Lower Bucks County High School League, decided that starting in 1950, there must be three football officials present at all games including those of Junior Varsity and Junior High.

Bristol and Southampton have scored on every opponent this season. The Warriors meet St. Francis Vocational School in a night game this coming Saturday while Southampton meets Bensalem on its home field. The Greyhounds and Owls are tied for the Lower Bucks County leadership with three points each.

The St. Ann's A. A. baseball team will be honored at a banquet to be held at Clio's Restaurant, Trenton. The "Saints" won the regular season crown while the Prison Officers won the playoff championship.

The affair will be held either on November 4th or 5th.

"Mike" DeRisi, Bristolian now coaching football at Hammonton High School, is having a wonderful season. His team is unbeaten and tied but once. The "Peaches" tied Pleasantville, a school that has scored victories over Hammonton for over 20 years.

Percy G. Ford Announces New Line of Dodge Trucks

Percy G. Ford, local Dodge dealer, today announced a new and expanded line of Dodge trucks comprising 356 basic gross vehicle weight models. The enlarged line compares with 248 models offered previously.

The Dodge "Job-Rated" truck line now ranges from 4250 to 23,000 pounds gross vehicle weight and up to 40,000 pounds gross combination weight to meet more than 97 per cent of all hauling needs. Nominal ratings have been increased to include some 2-1/4 and 3-1/2-ton models.

The broadened coverage includes conventional truck models, dual purpose models, cab-over-engine models, cab-over-engine dual purpose models, school bus chassis, the four-wheel drive Power-Wagon, and Route-Van delivery trucks.

Among the many new features announced on the new B-2 Series are: an electrical system which assists in improved engine performance, a new 5-speed synchro-shift transmission, a new 5-speed synchro-shift overdrive transmission, cyclebonded brake linings as standard equipment on all models, and a steering column gearshift and a convenient hand brake under the center of the cowl on 1/2, 3/4 and 1-ton models.

One completely new engine is among the seven offered in the new line. Fourteen new models have been added to the 1-1/2-ton group to broaden the Dodge coverage in that group to 92 GVW options. Dodge now offers three basic models in the 1-1/2-ton group ranging from 7,000 to 16,250 pounds in seven different wheelbases.

Important engine features which provide long life and reduce operating costs are continued in the new trucks. Some of these features include the use of four piston rings with the top ring chrome-plated, exhaust valve seat inserts, and silchrome exhaust valves. The J and K models (2-1/2-ton) have silchrome intake valves and sodium-cooled exhaust valves as standard equipment.

The R (2-3/4-ton), T (3-ton) and V (3-1/2-ton) models have engines fitted with sodium-cooled exhaust valves faced with stellite, and both intake and exhaust valve seats are fitted with silchrome inserts.

The new engine included in the line is for the R (2-3/4-ton) and RA (2-3/4-ton dual purpose) models. The new engine of 306 cu. in. displacement develops 122 hp at 3200 r.p.m. and replaces the previous 115 hp engine.

The new steering column gear shift lever and hand-pull parking brake control incorporated on the 1/2, 3/4 and 1-ton models remove all obstructions from the floor of the cab.

Rear loading height on the three models has been reduced more than one inch by means of a change in spring contour. Two body heights—17 and 22-7/16 in.—are now offered on the 1/2-ton pickup to meet varying loading requirements of users.

F, G and H models have special heavy frames which do not require the use of reinforcements. R, T and V models have cast steel spoke wheels as standard equipment to replace the ventilated disc type wheels used formerly. The new type wheels reduce unsprung weight and also improve brake cooling.

Dodge first offered the cyclebonded brake linings as standard equipment on 1/2-ton trucks. The bonded linings are being used on all models of the new B-2 Series. Cross steering is standard on all conventional models of the new B-2 Series. This feature, together with the wide front axle, gives Dodge trucks a 37-degree turning angle and provides easy maneuverability.

Among the features in the large line of new C-O-E models is the accessibility for checking the oil level or the battery for adding water to the radiator by merely raising the hood.

The electrical system on the new Dodge trucks is completely dust- and splash-proof through use of a moisture-proof distributor and rubber caps on the distributor wires. A new 40-amp shunt-wound air-cooled generator replaces the former 35-amp equipment on all models. Choice of 45-amp or 50-amp generator is offered as extra equipment. A generator with high charging rate at slow engine speeds also is available to meet special operating conditions.

Resistor-type spark plugs with built-in 10,000-ohm resistor used in conjunction with a high-output coil, are used to help maintain smooth engine idle at low speeds, to increase electrode life and to aid in reducing radio and television interference.

The Bristol Township Teachers Association held its second meeting of the year in the library of the junior high school on Rogers road, Monday afternoon and evening.

The association consists of faculties of the following schools: the junior high, Croydon, Edgely and Edgely primary, Maple Shade, Laurel Bend, Newportville, and community and kindergarten at Bristol Terrace II.
